

Today, only a limited number of wireless customers are able to use their phones while traveling through the over 100 miles of track and 86 stations in the Metrorail system. The Waxman-Davis Amendment establishes a deadline by which WMATA must ensure that Metro riders are able to use their mobile phones throughout the system, including in Metro trains and tunnels.